HOLIDAY CIRQUE DE LA SYMPHONIE

Saturday, December 8, 2012 | 8 p.m.

Wright Center

The exceptional cirque artistes of Cirque de la Symphonie amazed us all when they performed with the ASO in the 2011 season. Now they return with a holiday-themed show that will delight the whole family. Aerialists will fly overhead and acrobatic feats will be performed to classical masterpieces and your favorite seasonal tunes. Great for ages 8 and up, or anyone who's still a kid at heart during the holidays.

THE MUSIC OF RAY CHARLES with ELLIS HALL

Saturday, January 12, 2013 | 8 p.m. Wright Center

Ray Charles himself crowned Ellis Hall his protege and successor in the R&B world, and Hall hasn't stopped singing since. Blind since 18, he has turned his love of music into an enduring career both onstage with groups like Tower of Power and behind the scenes — as a voice for a California Raisin and Uncle Grizzly on Sesame Street. Spend an evening with Hall and the ASO in celebration of legendary American music icon Ray Charles!

LINDA EDER

Saturday, March 2, 2013 | 8 p.m. | Wright Center

From her debut on Star Search in the 1980s to a breathtaking star turn in Broadway's Jekyll & Hyde and her acclaimed solo albums, Linda Eder has justified her reputation as one of the best contemporary vocalists in any genre. She'll join the ASO for a night of classic show tunes, jazz standards and torch songs, like her world famous versions of "Someone Like You," "Vienna" and "I Am What I Am."

NEIL SEDAKA

Saturday, April 20, 2013 | 8 p.m. | Wright Center

With 500+ songs to his credit, dozens of #1 hits and millions of records sold, it's hard to overestimate the influence Neil Sedaka has had on American pop music. He first hit fame just out of his teens as a singer & songwriter in the 60s and has had musical successes in every decade since. Now, it's your chance to hear the man who has had the country humming tunes like "Breakin' Up Is Hard To Do," "Love Will Keep Us Together," and "Where The Boys Are" for fifty-five years.

INDIGO GIRLS

Friday, September 21, 2012 | 8 p.m.
Alabama Theatre

If there's anything that could augment the lush folk-rock sounds and deep, searchingly emotional lyrics of the Indigo Girls, it's the power of the whole Alabama Symphony Orchestra behind them. For one special night only, Amy Ray and Emily Saliers will join the ASO at the historic Alabama Theatre to bring you the best of their Grammy-winning 25-year career in their first orchestra performance.

HOLLYWOOD'S LEGENDARY HITS with CHRIS CONFESSORE

Saturday, February 9, 2013 | 8 p.m.
Alabama Theatre

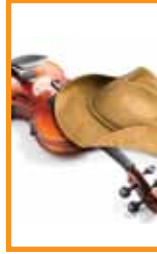

It will be a perfect pre-Valentine's date night with the Symphony and the best in cinematic soundtracks. Principal POPS! Conductor Chris Confessore leads the ASO in selections from classic films like The Magnificent Seven, Gone With the Wind, The Pink Panther, Rocky and more!

A BROADWAY ROMANCE

Friday, November 2, 2012 | 8 p.m. | Wright Center

Two talented vocalists and music director Ted Sperling bring you an evening of Broadway's best romantic songs. Maestro Sperling is hands down the leading music director and orchestrator working both on and off Broadway today, with Tony and Drama Desk awards to prove it. Join us for a night that will sweep you off your feet!

SWEET HOME ALABAMA SYMPHONY

Saturday, May 4, 2013 | 8 p.m. | Wright Center

Guest conductor Jeffrey Reed takes the ASO on a trip through the best of Southern and classic rock, from The Allman Brothers to Led Zeppelin and much more. Special guests The Rewinders will be on hand to make this concert the rip-roarin'-est, honky-tonk-iest, down-home musical crossover ever.
